Images are edited everyday, and this becomes even more essential during the holidays. But when editing images on mobile devices, the occasional "typing" detour that crop photos due to insufficient space can seep into the holiday festivities. This comes in the form of misleading edits that crop images without a strategic reason. In the past, to delete a face from an image, a user had to first select the face, then delete it via the keyboard. In the new Delete and Fill tool, the user can simply select the face, click the "Delete" button, and the object will be removed as one shot. With the new Fill Tool, users can easily fill in a missing image element, such as an eyeball that is missing from a photo. To use the Fill tool, users simply select a missing element, then click on the "Filled" button to replace it by a new image or text. One of the most in-demand features is the ability to quickly select and crop images from a web page. For existing CS6 customers, this was enabled in Photoshop CC with the release of Photoshop CC 2015, and with the launch of the Adobe Research team's very own photo browser, Photome . Photome is a photo browser that allows users to select and crop a photo without opening a web browser. Smart Mask tools are a powerful and easy way to teach users how to edit images, as they can quickly and easily retouch their photos. Or for greater control, users can manually paint the edit boundaries that are recognized by the smart mask tools.
